HEADMASTER'S PRIZE-GIVING SPEECH

The Chinese bamboo tree is a very interesting plant.

According to legend, the Chinese bamboo tree takes five years to grow.

After being planted, it is watered and fertilized for a year, but nothing happens.

During the second year, it is watered and fertilized again, with no result.

This happens in the third and fourth years too, and the result... nothing.

However, sometime during the fifth year, something unbelievable happens. The plant explodes out of the earth and grows to about 30m high in just 6 weeks.

The reflective question is:
Did this growth happen in 5 years, or just 6 weeks?

The answer is:
Five years of careful preperation preparation and hard work, and a fifth year when all the patient caring pays off and leads to success.

A possible lesson in the Chinese bamboo tree story, is that it teaches us the importance of values such as patience, persistence, and faith, AND, by extension... that every one of us sitting here tonight has potential.

Just as the Chinese bamboo develops strong roots to survive, if we keep working hard, and make the effort to build a solid foundation, we must be able to find a way to achieve success.

The broad theme (and by association, the focus) of my speech tonight, revolves around the notion of taking time to PAUSE... REFLECT... and APPRECIATE one's achievements in life at any given moment in time.

Take a moment to be proud... and then use that particular moment of success to move on and achieve something even greater!

Linking the Chinese bamboo tree story to school

In the same way that it takes 5 years for somebody to grow a Chinese bamboo tree, it takes educators 13 years, from Grade R to Grade 12, to prepare pupils to become successful adults.

Pupils, in turn, need to work diligently and responsibly - and make the most of every opportunity during this time - to ensure that they graduate successfully into the adult world after Grade 12.

The roles of the teachers in all phases of this educational journey are immense. While the focus tonight is on the achievements of our pupils in the High School, it is appropriate to pause and acknowledge that without the foundation laid and then consolidated through the course of Grades RRRR to Grade 7, achievements in High School, simply put, are not possible.

I therefore take this opportunity to acknowledge:

- Mrs Poustie and our ECD teachers at Roots
- Mrs Schnell and our Foundation Phase teachers
- Mrs Wickham and our Senior Primary teachers

I also think it is appropriate to acknowledge the group of pupils and parents who have been at Felixton College from Roots through to Grade 12.

Parents, whether it is your first journey through the school... or your only journey... or your third, you are very much a part of the DNA of the school.

Grade 12s, you clearly have a major head start in life, as you have had access to the best educators throughout your entire school experience.

I now draw your attention to noteworthy in-house achievements, specifically with regard to Academics, Sport, and Culture.

Academics (Head of Academics: Miss Reddy)

Based on the performances of our Grade 12s in the end of year IEB NSC examinations over the last 5 years, we have moved into a space now where we get to talk about a Grade 12 cohort achieving 100% tertiary access.

We are also able to refer to our top performing Grade 12 pupils who feature in the full house of distinctions category, get acknowledged in the Top 1% in some of their subjects (nationally), and get placed on IEB Outstanding and Commendable Achievers lists.

General school academic achievements are of a high standard (which will become evident tonight through the awards that are handed out), and we are particularly proud of the top performing pupils in each of the Grades 8 through 12 (with regard to overall averages and number of distinctions obtained over the year).

Sport (Head of Sport: Mr Picton)

There are 226 pupils in the High School. Of these pupils, 64 represented various teams at district level this year (uThungulu, King Cetshwayo, and Zululand). This converts to 28% of our pupils, across our spectrum of sport codes, representing teams at district level.

Twenty pupils went on to represent provincial teams this year.

Culture (Head of Culture: Mrs Cronje)

Our choir has grown from 20 members last year to 53 members this year, and performed at a number of events, having been invited by other schools to do so.

I have already waxed lyrical about our hosting a successful Zululand Eisteddfod 2024, so I will merely put forward a breakdown of performance awards:

In all, we received:
63 Gold awards; 27 Silver awards; 5 Bronze awards, and we won the Drama and School Dance categories.

Staff acknowledgements

Miss Reddy has been appointed as KZN's National Subject Facilitator for Mathematics. She was also accepted into the ISASA Leadership Development Programme, which is conducted under the auspices of WITS Business School.

Ms Eliot has been appointed as the examiner for the Grade 12 IEB National Senior Certificate IT Paper 1 (Theory).

Miss Visser represented the KZN Country Districts Ladies' Hockey team at the SA Country Districts Tournament.

Mr Picton is the Vice President of the Zululand Rugby Sub-union and also serves on the KZN Rugby Council.

Mrs Minnie was recently announced as a Top 10 finalist in the Solidariteit National High school teacher of the year competition.

Teachers leaving the High School at the end of the year

Miss Allan leaves us for the big city life, almost making it to Durban by the sea, and taking up a teaching position at Ashton Ballito. She has contributed to the school in the Senior English classes, on the sports fields and in various other portfolios.

Ms Millar retires at the end of this year. She has provided expertise in the classroom, as well as a wonderful safety net for the Grade 8s and 9s through her protective, motherly, caring, nurturing classroom manner.

Outside of the classroom, her attention to detail in the world of editing reports at the end of each term, has been valued.

Mrs Hoffmann leaves us at the end of the year for health reasons. She is best described as effervescent, and good luck to anybody who tries to follow her train of thought at any given stage, never mind when she is excited (which is an event in itself)... normally brought on at the hint of a vague link to anything mathematical. Her contribution to all things Mathematics and Further Studies Mathematics has been immense, and she will be sorely missed by pupils and staff alike.

As we move towards focusing on the presentation of awards to our pupils, I stand before you tonight, with immense pride and joy, as we gather to celebrate the culmination of another year of hard work, dedication, and exceptional achievement.

Gathered in this venue tonight, is a diverse group of individuals, each with their own unique story, journey, and aspirations. Each pupil here has faced challenges, overcome obstacles, and demonstrated resolute commitment to achieving their goals. It is this spirit of resilience, and determination, that I wish to highlight as the focus of celebration tonight.

The awards received tonight, are not only recognition for:
- Academic excellence,
- Sporting prowess,
- Artistic flair,
- Cultural talent, or
- Commitment to Service and a greater good.

They are symbolic of dedication and hard work that has culminated in achievement.

I take this moment to pause and briefly reflect on what achievement truly means.

Achievement cannot only be about accolades, or trophies. It has to be bigger than that:
- It has to be about the journey that leads us to moments of recognition.
- It has to be about setting a goal, working tirelessly towards it, and ultimately, realising it.
- It has to be about learning lessons along the way.
- It has to be about character built through perseverance.
- It also has to be about stopping to reflect to enjoy the fruits of ones labour … and then using that to strive for even greater success.

To the pupils who receive awards tonight,
- take a moment to pause (whenever that is appropriate)... and
- be proud of your achievement.

You have worked incredibly hard, and thus deserve to be recognised in front of your family, your peers, and your teachers.

The following may sound harsh, but I sincerely hope that you have indeed faced moments of doubt and disillusionment, and that you have had to make sacrifices on your way to receiving your award tonight.

I say that, because THAT would mean that you have risen above these daunting challenges... and THAT is far bigger than a piece of metal, wood, or Perspex with your name on it - it is a core value that will stand you in good stead as you make your way through life.

Your hard work has not gone unnoticed, and tonight, we acknowledge your achievements.

While you, the pupils, get to strut across the stage tonight, let us also acknowledge the support systems that have played a crucial role in your success.

For any pupil to be here tonight, there needs to be a network of family, friends, teachers, and mentors who have provided guidance, encouragement, a safety net, a secure environment, and unwavering belief in your potential.

To the parents and guardians present this evening, thank you for your sacrifices, your encouragement, and your steadfast support (of your children and the College).

To our dedicated teachers, your commitment to nurturing and inspiring our pupils is commendable.

It is not only about the knowledge that you have imparted; it is also about values that you have instilled to shape the minds and hearts of our children – and for that, you are acknowledged, respected, and appreciated.

Grade 12s, tonight, you finish your journey through Felixton College (addressed through the Valedictory Service tonight). As you brace yourselves for whatever it is that your future holds, I urge you to set ambitious goals for yourself (do not sell yourself short in this regard). Dare to dream big (as clichéd as that sounds).

Whether your aspirations lie in academia, sports, the arts, service and/or outreach, or any other field, approach each endeavour with passion and purpose.

As you make your way through your last few weeks at school, make an effort to take time to stop and reflect on the journey that has brought you here tonight (and here I refer to the entire journey through school) as well as the bright future that awaits you.

In moving to a close, I take this opportunity to acknowledge:

The College Council Chairperson, Mrs Nicola Reddy, and the College Council members. Thank you all for your time, your expertise, and your commitment to the success of Felixton College. Your input behind the scenes, voluntary and unrewarded, is nothing short of immense.

Mr Mitchley. Thank you for your major role in keeping the High School in shape. Your commitment to the pupils, staff, and school in general, is hereby acknowledged and appreciated.

The support staff for maintaining our buildings and grounds and transporting our pupils and teachers safely on a daily basis.

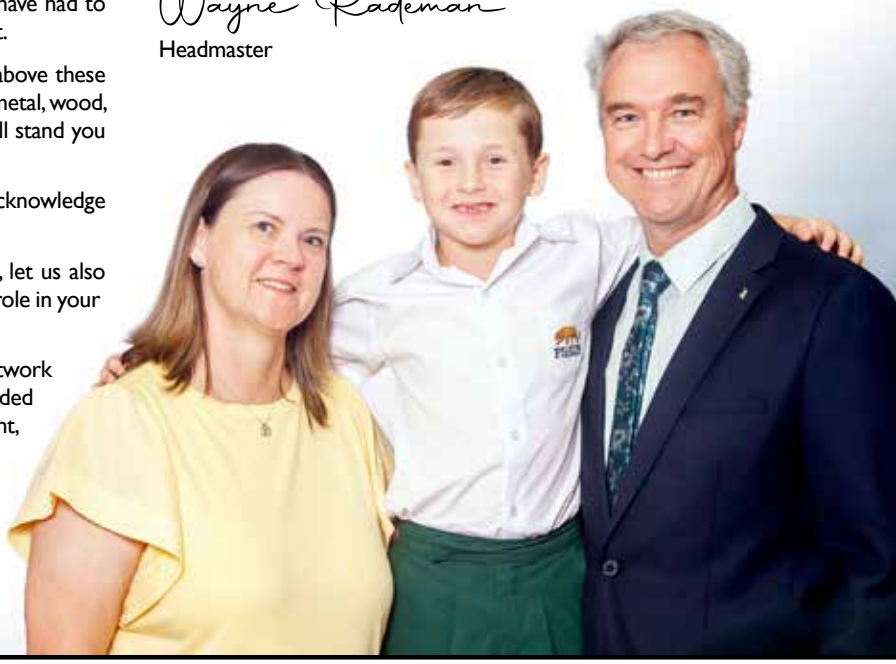

The admin staff, for performing the work that falls under your respective job descriptions … and then taking on numerous other tasks as needs arise. The work that you all do is immense and your respective contributions are valued.

To the audience at large, I encourage you to spend this evening being proud parents, proud siblings, proud teachers, proud friends, and most of all... to those receiving awards tonight, proud recipients.

On this note, I close with a quote by Denis Waitley (author of The Psychology of Winning):

Learn from the past;
Set vivid, detailed goals for the future,
And live in the only moment of time over which you have any control, NOW!

Dear Felixton College Family,

What a joy it was to look back on 2024's incredible whole-school achievements, while compiling this treasure of our children's school memories.

On the sports fields, in the classroom, and on the playgrounds, their days have been filled with an abundance of joy and the creation of many happy memories. The pictures captured within the pages of this magazine will be treasured keepsakes for many years to come, and it has been my greatest pleasure and privilege to stand alongside your children as I took them.

This is Felixton College!

Miss Laurie Smith
Editor

Dux Scholar, Kelly Schnell, topped the list of 2023 achievers with an average of 86% across all 7 subjects.

CHAIRPERSON OF COUNCIL'S ADDRESS

Good evening Members of the Felixton College Family, Mr Rademan, the educators and staff, my fellow Council members and especially our honoured guests, the matriculants of 2024.

As we approach the end of 2024 and reflect on the year, one is filled with a deep sense of pride that 2024 has been another immensely successful year. It is hard to believe that 10 months ago I assumed the position of Chair of Council. As alluded to at our AGM, 2023 was a year that was filled with gratitude and pride with the build of the Junior School.

The process of refining the school's strategy has been ongoing with the strategy planning session that was held in January and is confirming that we are on the right trajectory with choices that are made, which speak to the ethos of our school and its four pillars:

Honour God, Honour Others, Honour Self and Honour the Environment.

The consolidation of the priority list for the current and long term projects was key to the session.

In line with the vision that stemmed from the session, we engaged the services of Olivehill Architects to provide us with a Master plan going forward.

This plan will transcend us on Council and our hope is that this will provide continuity with a foundation which our successors are able to build on.

Doing great things takes time and so we look beyond any of our tenures to envision what Felixton College will look like in years to come.

While we do not profess to have all the answers, we as the College Council believe that there are enduring characteristics and objectives that will be relevant in future as much they are appropriate at present.

The journey thus far has been exciting from what has been to what will be in years to come.

The Architects presented an initial proposal to Council with the upgrade to our current Administration Block, improvement of facilities on the main campus, and the concept of a Sport Complex at Izingwe.

The exciting project for the Sport Complex is designed to be the show piece for Felixton College which has an array of quality sporting facilities such as a full size astroturf for hockey; rugby, soccer and cricket fields, a swimming pool, and a 400m athletics track.

As most schools are run as non-profit organisations, thus not generating a great financial surplus, affordability to finance these arduous projects will therefore be based on the current needs of the school and our financial status. During the course of 2025, these detailed plans will be shared with you.

During 2024, the various individual campuses were upgraded including the Solar Solution commissioned at Roots. We are in the process of procuring a new bus for the Richards Bay School run.

Over the course of this year, the children have excelled in the classroom, on the sports fields and in our Culture Department. Our children went on to showcase their vast array of talents at the Zululand Eisteddfod which was hosted by the school this year. It is pleasing to note that they have appreciated the privilege that has been afforded to them of attending this amazing school.

These results do not happen by chance. It is the result of the commitment of you the parent and of highly engaged professional educators, dedicated to their cause of nurturing and developing young minds to reach their full potential, not only academically, but to raise good, strong-minded and kind individuals who will make this world a better place.

As College Council, our deep appreciation is extended to Mr Rademan and staff of the Felixton College family for their ongoing support and contributions made to the School of Choice in this Cluster. Thank you also to my fellow council members, who offer and volunteer their time to be part of this journey of raising our future leaders.

On a personal note, we are blessed to have been afforded the opportunity to raise 3 young men, and our youngest is one of the matriculants this year. We have experienced and seen the dedication that each educator offers the students at this school.

Education is essential to empowering individuals to reach their full potential and to make their own positive impact on the world. The gift of education is indeed something to be celebrated.

To the matriculants, we are proud of your accomplishments. May the next chapter in your life be paved with success, and may you reap the rewards of your hard work. I leave you with the words of Nelson Mandela: "Young people must take it upon themselves to ensure that they receive the highest education possible, so that they can represent us well in the future as future leaders".

Nicola Reddy

Chairperson of Council

Congratulations to our two super 2024 Comrades Marathon runners!

Mr Zenzele Khoza (left) finished his fifth marathon in a time of 8h27 to earn his second Bill Rowan. He will add this to his three silver medals, while Mr Party Simelane (right) finished in a time of 10h04 and brought home a bronze medal. We are so proud of these members of the #LoveFC estate staff, who were congratulated by their No.1 fan - Headmaster Wayne Rademan!

FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL DESK

As we come to the close of another year, it is my privilege to be able to reflect on a journey filled with academic, sports, cultural, and service accomplishments.

Each of our students has made a unique contribution to our school community, and I am continually inspired by their creativity and enthusiasm. Particularly when reflecting on a year that has seen so many of them showcase their cultural talents in the Zululand Eisteddfod and the High School musical.

Whether they have excelled in academics, sports, arts, or in the many and various community and service drives in which they have been involved, these efforts have not gone unnoticed. The lessons they have learned while honouring others through food drives, flood relief, blood donation, and their many small acts of service will extend far beyond the classroom.

Thank you for your contributions to the termly SANBS Blood Donation Clinics, the SPCA food drive, the Walk for Diabetes, the Leukaemia Awareness Campaign, Owl Conservation Awareness Project, SANCA 5km Fundraising Walk and the Ezemvelo KZN Wildlife Rhino Competition.

I must pay tribute to the incredible Felixton College academic staff. Your dedication often goes beyond the call of duty, and for that I am truly grateful. This year, as with every year, you have shown what it means to be true mentors and role models under the solid and unwavering guidance of Mr Wayne Rademan, whose leadership and vision have been instrumental in navigating our school through another successful year.

Thank you, our parents and guardians, for your steadfast support and partnership. Your involvement in your child's education is invaluable, and your encouragement helps to create an environment where students can thrive. Our sense of family is what sets us apart from others, and we will continue to place this at the forefront of our ethos as we move into the next academic year together.

In closing, I would like to congratulate the Class of 2024 - I am proud of you and excited to see all that you will accomplish in the next chapter of your lives.

Have a wonderful holiday and Christmas with family and friends. Stay safe.

HEADBOY'S PRIZE-GIVING SPEECH

Greetings esteemed Chairperson of the Council, Mrs. Reddy and her partner, members of the Council, Mr Rademan, teachers, staff, proud parents, and fellow students. It's an absolute honour to stand before you today as we celebrate this incredible milestone in our journey.

In 2020 I came to Felixton College about this tall, having no clue what the future held for me. Covid wasn't on any of the websites on what to expect when moving to a new school, so that kind of blindsided me, but I didn't expect to meet so many amazing friends and teachers on my journey to standing here today either. Each of you has become such an unforgettable and crucial part of my life.

My journey in Felixton College started at Grade 8 Orientation Day with Nom and her lumo pink hair and us all terrified of Mr Mitchley. We then moved on to our first day of school with everyone's clothes being far too big for them, but even then, I understood I hadn't just arrived at a school, but rather been welcomed into a family. From that day on my life has changed and transformed to where I am today. This year has been a year of growth and learning. I learnt to cherish what little time we had at school. Throughout the year the phrase "I can't wait" has been thrown around a lot among the matrics, and with good reason as we are about to start an exciting new adventure, but tonight I ask you to wait, enjoy this moment as all your hard work has brought you here. So appreciate this moment because you deserve to be proud of it. Before I make my thanks, to my peers, don't be a stranger and don't forget to call and tell me of the new friends and the lecturer or boss that just won't get off your back.

To the Exec team, you were incredible this year. We've left some big shoes to fill for the next year's Execs. You've done an amazing job keeping things running smoothly and setting an example for everyone. I really appreciate everything you've done for the school.

And to my sidekick, just kidding. Rutendo I've loved how our friendship has flourished. We make an excellent team and your strengths have supported my weaknesses. I'm so proud to say I got to stand next to such an amazing leader. Thank you, Ru, for being so patient with me at times, especially with the birthday lists. You've been there to lift me up every step of our way.

To Mr Rademan, Sir, you are the leader I wished to become. Thank you for your speeches in assembly, your attendance at sport fixtures and the way you encourage your students to be all that they can be. Your dedication to the school has truly made a difference, and we're all so grateful for the support and wisdom you bring to our community.

I want to thank Mr Picton for all the rugby practices, and the fact that I never have to run hills after dropping catches again. My best moments with the team were when we beat our friends up the road this year, and when we did it again, and another time. One of my biggest dreams was to be a part of the first team rugby at Felixton College, partly for my love of rugby, but also because of the passion I saw you bring to every practice and game.

The first thing Mrs Myburgh said to me is "Jiiirrrrrr, Ayrton, your handwriting is bad, but normally the smart kids have bad handwriting". That's when ma'am taught me every rule has an exception. According to Mrs Myburgh, every lesson that isn't Afrikaans is but a hobby, and it's that same love for teaching Afrikaans that she brings to the lessons every time. She is an inspiration. Ek sal Mevrou en Mevrou se toewyding baie mis.

To my English teachers, Miss Allan and Ms Bond, Ma'ams before you two I took every poem at face value. Now I know not a single line means what they said. Ma'ams, you take wit and didactic prowess everywhere you ambulate.

Miss Reddy told us that if all you learnt from her lessons was Maths then she didn't do her job. I learnt a lot more than Maths in her class. I learnt teamwork, especially during the tutorials, compassion, and that when a teacher says she'll print something for the class she probably won't, but if you sneak into one of her cooking classes and give her a hungry look, she'll always organise some snack for you.

Mrs Eliot loves to pretend she doesn't like me. She is the only teacher that has shouted at me for getting an 80%. She accepts nothing but the best and that's what makes her such a fantastic teacher. There's been some fun times over the years but never, not once, did you give up on any of us.

Mr Haydam, ahhh where do I start? Mr Haydam took me for Life Orientation and Geography, and every lesson I knew I'd leave happier than when I went into the class. He has this uncanny ability to know all the slang but no clue how to use it. I want to thank you, Sir, for your skill in making every lesson memorable.

This year Mrs Dell definitely tried her best to teach me Science and while doing that she taught me to believe in myself, that hard work pays off and after a Science test a good cry really helps. Mrs Dell, you are a brilliant teacher and thank you for the past 5 years of Science.

Our Grade 12 mom, Mrs Minnie, has always been there to pick us up after our falls. Thank you, Ma'am, for always being there to correct our mistakes and never shying away from lending a helping hand every time a learner that needs it.

Thank you, Mr Mitchley, for never giving me a day off and for never letting me be anything less than what I can be, even when I don't see it. Mr Mitchley's tolerance for anything but the best is the same as the amount of shampoo he owns, not a drop. He has been an inspiration as to how I try to live my life.

Now I need to talk about a teacher that is far more than a teacher to me, Mrs Cronje. She is my biggest supporter and my sternest critic, she is always there in my corner cheering me on and is never afraid to give me a good talking to when I've messed up. We all need a Mrs Cronje in our lives.

To my parents...

Thank you, Mom, for putting up with all my fun little side missions that I've put you through over the years. Thank you for always being my "go-to" when my socks have disappeared 2 minutes before we must leave for school or whatever else I drop on you last minute. And always being able to come up with a solution to my problems. You don't get nearly enough credit for it, but Mom, without you I'd be a wreck.

I also want to thank my dad. You have been at every single one of my sports games since I was in Grade 1, and more importantly, not once given up on me. Dad, you've helped me get to where I am today and there's no way I could thank you enough for giving me the opportunities you did. I'm not sure if he knows this or if I remind him enough but he is my biggest role model.

And to the rest of my peers at Felixton College, what a pleasure it's been. I hope we continue to be such an example to other schools. I'd like to leave you with this "Be wise enough to understand you are living the dream of many and be humble enough to thank the people who made it possible."

Thank you, College.

HEADGIRL'S PRIZE-GIVING SPEECH

'BELIEVE you can, and you're halfway there.' BELIEVE in yourself, BELIEVE in your abilities, and BELIEVE in the impact you can make.

Mr Rademan, Council chairperson - Mrs Reddy, Felixton staff, parents, and students. Greetings to you all.

I am unable to adequately express my gratitude to every one of you for entrusting me with the responsibility of serving as one of the Executive Heads of this school. It fills me with enormous pride to be a part of a community that places a high priority on growth, togetherness, and respect. To have been able to contribute to the legacy of our school has been an honour.

My journey began in 2020, when I arrived at school with that large Waltons stationery box. I was an introvert, shy, and terrified of public speaking. My main concern was how I would be able to make new friends with this type of personality. In 2022, squealing with excitement about becoming a senior, I soon realised Grade 10 isn't much different. I always remember Grade 10 as a year of firsts. I remember when crying over tests seemed to have no end; little did I know that Grade 10 would be a handful of the stress yet to come. In 2023, I set a goal to overcome my phobia of public speaking. This was a year that our grade was not mentally prepared for, and we were concerned that we would not be able to succeed. But it was a year of growth for our grade, and we finally learned how to work together successfully by cooperating in our Matric Dance fundraisers. When I reached the start of 2024, I made a decision, a promise to myself to make the most of the year. A tough year - spoiler alert: Grade 12 is neither better nor easier than Grade 11. This was a challenging year, with many restless nights for everyone. We were constantly scheduling sessions with Mrs Minnie to discuss why this curriculum exists and whether we'll make it through the year. However, this was a year of resilience.

Now with only six weeks until we as Matrics end this journey, I've seen how all of these experiences shaped us, not just as students, but as people prepared to confront the world beyond these school walls.

I hold the belief that as the Matrics of 2024, our legacy is a legacy of growth, that our experiences, as a grade, were an example of the choices we made. Committing ourselves to self-development, having a good attitude and working hard is the best choice we could have made.

WE all have choices to make :

- What kind of character do you aspire to be, and what do you wish to become? You can let others and your surroundings shape you, or you can focus on self-development. You can be less than your potential or fully realise it.
- How will you handle adversity? Sometimes, undesirable events happen to good unsuspecting people. Will you let yourself be crushed, give up, and feel sorry for yourself? Or Will you seek strength within yourself to persevere and make the most of what life offers?
- We choose how to treat others. Put them down or lift them up. Be self-centered and selfish, or choose to be kind, respectful, and helpful.
- Keep this in mind. Your attitude is your choice, no matter the situation. This choice is crucial as it impacts every aspect of your life.

My entire life, I have held the belief that my legacy needs to be defined by the things that I have accomplished; but, my time spent at Felixton has shown me that legacy is about the impact that we have had. What matters is the resiliency and bravery that we exhibit in the face of adversity, the relationships that we cultivate, and the values that we hold dear. In our own unique ways, every one of us will leave a mark, whether it is via the friendships we form, the leadership we demonstrate, or the acts of empathy and kindness we perform. These moments and these relationships are what truly determine our legacy.

I am overwhelmed and I am filled with immense gratitude to have been a part of this community. The support shown to me by both peers and teachers has guided me along the way.

Thank you to all of the teachers! You've always believed in our potential. The courage, confidence, and self-worth you have instilled in our grade is the legacy you have left in us.

In the words of Mustafa Kemal, "A good teacher is like a candle; it consumes itself in order to light the way for others." Even though I am aware that I did not have the opportunity to be taught by every teacher, I am conscious of the dedication and motivation that you present to us, which has resulted in us becoming better versions of ourselves to help us create our very own legacies.

Thank you to our Executive Committee. I am ever so appreciative of your support in enabling Ayrton and me to lead the school and guarantee the best possible outcome for Felixton.

To my mum and dad, I appreciate your unwavering support. Your wisdom, love, and guidance have aided me not just individually, but also helped me lead the school. I am aware of all of the sacrifices you have made to secure my well-being, and I am eternally grateful and blessed to have parents like you.

I'm so lucky to have had the privilege of 'co-heading' with you, Ayrton, it has been a great year. We worked well together and made some good decisions along the way. You are compassionate, respectful, a wonderful listener, and always strive to find answers to whatever problems we face. Thank you, Ayrton, for always being willing to help others when needed and for being such an amazing leader and friend.

I hope that I have left a legacy of growth. That my experience can be an example for someone else because it is my firm belief that the greatest legacy one can leave behind is a legacy others can learn from. It is important for us, the class of 2024, to keep in mind that although we are the authors of our own stories, we are also part of something bigger. As we part ways, it is important to keep in mind that the decisions and choices you make right now will be a part of the legacy you want to leave behind.

Remember every person has a legacy. You may not know what your impact is, and it may not be something that you can write on your tombstone, but every person has an impact on this world. Let that impact be one of kindness, growth, and courage.

Celebrating Our CLASS OF 2024

MONISH BAHADUR

Monish's hair, always on fleek,
Not a strand out of place - oh so sleek.
It's his sense of humour that really shines
Cracking jokes, witty comebacks not crossing any lines.

JASMINE CHUBB

Each note a whisper, soft and sweet,
A song that makes the world complete.
Jasmine's heart is kind, her spirit warm,
Her presence calm, her soul a charm.

NOA BAILEY

Noa's quiet, but don't be misled,
He's got a joke hiding in his head.
With quick wit sharp and humor on cue,
Noa's the guy who'll surprise you too!

DARIUS DIEDERICKS

Though rugby's left his fingers sore,
Double tap plays with grit,
then asks for more.
A boerseun's strength, a player's might,
He tackles life with all his fight.

ORDEN BLIGNAUT

Unintentionally funny, he'll crack a smile,
Turning your frown around in style.
If you need an amigo who's calm and true,
Orden's the guy who'll always come through!

TRAVIS DREYER

Travis is smart, but oh so still,
A chessboard king with quiet skill.
He doesn't shout, he doesn't cheer,
Just checkmates you with a silent sneer.

JOSHUA BOOYJENS

Joshua's a champ on the sports field,
Quick on his feet, he'll never yield.
Books and exams? Not his faves,
It's the thrill of the sport which he craves.

LIAM GOVENDER

Liam's quiet, but don't be deceived,
Hard-working, smart, and always believed.
With a mullet that's sick, he's got that flair,
Determined to reach goals, no matter where.

KIRA BRISTOW

Kira's got brains, and humor for days,
She'll make you laugh in the funniest ways.
Smart as a whip, quick with a quip
Kira's got that genius grip.

SHENIKA GOVENDER

No drama, no stress, she's got it all straight,
Giving advice, "Chill out, just wait."
With wisdom so sharp, and a cool, steady pace,
Shenika's the calm in a stormy race!

YELENA GOVENDER

On the Berg hike, she took a wrong track,
Left everyone wondering
- did she turn back?
She's hardworking, strong, and full of grace
She stands firm in her beliefs and will put anyone in their place.

JUDITH KAFFKA GENAAMD DENGLER

She won't shout, but when she speaks,
Her words are wise - never weak.
Friendly as ever, with a soft, warm glow,
Jude's the quiet genius
we all are lucky to know!

AYABONGA GUMEDE

Ayabonga's small, but don't be fooled,
She's dynamite wrapped up and schooled.
No speed, drama or fluff, she's all about facts,
With quick wit and smarts,
she's got no time for acts.

CAYDYN LENDRUM

He is not keen on sports, that's clear,
He'd rather read books, or give a cheer!
Loves his culture, all things profound,
While others run around,
Caydyn's writing his thoughts down.

LWANDILE GUMEDE

Lwandile's a gentleman, loved by the crowd,
With manners so fine, he stands out proud.
A future big shot with crops to grow,
This future-farmer is the guy
we all want to know!

DESUN LOGANATHAN

Desun - A legend in Ging,
A comeback ready, it's sure to sting!
Quick with the wit, always in the game,
He's the one who'll put you to shame!

MALUSI HADEBE

Malusi's a sportsman, fast on his feet,
But with music, he's got that rhythm beat.
He'll score a goal and then sing a tune,
You'll catch him smiling morning to noon.

MATTHEW LUDIKE

Matthew's the guy with the snow cone stand,
Serving sweet ice with a cold, steady hand.
When teachers call, he's first in line,
"Need help? Sure!" with a smirk so fine.

SHELBY HARTLEY

With quick comebacks, she's sharp and fast,
Quite witty, it's built to last.
Back her up, and she's got your back,
Shelby's the sass queen
- you better not slack!

SIPHESIHLE MANYONI

On stage he stole the show,
With moves so smooth, we wanted to know:
Is he a star? A showbiz king?
Nah, just Sphe - doing his thing!

NOMANGWANE HLONGWANE

With a smile so bright,
and a heart full of cheer,
She'll lift you up - she's always near!
From acting her heart out to lending a hand,
Noma's the heart of the FC brand.

YENZOKUHLE MKHWANAZI

Her personality's fierce, she can't be tamed,
With strength and flair, she's definitely famed!
When she plays her marimbas,
watch out, take care -
Her beats are loud, and so is her glare!

LAZIWE MNGADI

Laziwe stands tall, won't back down,
She speaks her truth, no fear, no frown.
Kind-hearted, cheering for friends all day,
With a laugh so contagious,
it's hard to stay away!

NTANDO NHLENGETHWA

She speaks her mind, loud and clear,
And if you argue - Ntando's got no fear!
Her laugh? It's loud, it's pure delight,
You'll catch it quick, and hold on tight!

XOLISWA MNGOMEZULU

Small is loud, and proud, and bold,
Her spirit's strong, her heart pure gold!
Always ready with a song or cheer,
Her fierce love for friends is crystal clear.

ZWELIBANZI NXUMALO

His friends tease and joke,
but he is the best bloke.
Sweet sugar sticks in hand
he plays the good game,
Soccer is his calling and
Zweli is his name.

RUTENDO MTHEMBU

Rue is smart, she leads with grace,
Diligent and calm, always on pace.
She smiles through tasks, both big and small,
And gets things done - she's on the ball!

EMILY OLIVIER

She's quick with compliments, always sweet,
Telling you you're flawless from head to feet!
She'll lift you up with words so bright -
Emily's the friend who makes things right!

SAZI NDLOVU

Info to come Sazi's the guy who's cool as ice,
No stress, no fuss - he's always nice.
With an easy-going grace,
He sets his own pace!

RUAN PRETORIUS

Ruan's the big bro, always around,
Ready to help when you're feeling down.
With a smile and a rugby tackle,
he's got your back,
he's the guy who's always on track!

SIYAMTHANDA NGUBANE

Siyam's the guy who's quick on his feet,
In every sport, he can't be beat.
The ladies blush, they can't resist,
With that grin and charm, he's made their list.

DYLAN REDDY

Dylan's quiet, reserved, and neat,
The smartest guy you'll ever meet.
But boast? Not him, he'll stay discreet,
His quirky sense of humour is quite offbeat.

"Take time to pause... reflect... and appreciate one's achievements in life at any given moment in time."

- Mr Wayne Rademan, Headmaster

SVEN REDINGER

Sven's so cool, with style so chill,
He's smart, but he won't show it - until,
You ask him something, and with a grin,
He'll drop some knowledge, then just begin - "Ah, it's nothing," he'll humbly say,
But you'll be floored by what he'll relay.

AYRTON STEWART

With a fringe that makes you cringe...
he's got one goal,
There's only one lady who stole his soul.
With leadership skills and friends galore,
He's the guy we'll always adore.

ROWAN SCLANDERS

Rowan's the photographer, capturing the scene,
With a camera or drone, he's always keen.
Not one for the spotlight, he's cool and slick,
At everything FC, he's the first to click!
Hightower will snap your pic, then drift away,
Selling snow cones, making your day.

LIAM TAYLOR

In the play, he stole every glance,
With moves so smooth,
the girls swooned in a trance.
Reserved and smart, with charm in spades,
He's the quiet guy who still gets the grades.

TYRON SEAMARK

Tyron's casual and always collected,
Unapologetically himself - perfectly respected.
In every crowd, he stands with ease,
Tyron's the calm in life's busy breeze!

LIAM VAN DER MERWE

He's up for pranks, dares, and fun,
With a wink and a smile, he's second to none.
In every crowd, he's the life, no doubt,
Liam's the one you can't do without!

AWANDE SITHOLE

No stress, no rush, never a fuss
Just cruising through life, what a plus!
His word-of-the-day? It's always a hit,
We'll miss it dearly - no doubt about it.

EMMA WELSH

She won't flaunt brains, that's just not her style,
But let her drop a joke,
and she'll make you smile.
Unapologetically, she's all her own,
Emma's the queen of the sly, smart throne!

DECLAN SMIT

Declan's not one to take the lead,
He'll do things his way, that's guaranteed.
Witty and sharp, with comebacks quick,
He'll leave you with a sarcastic hair flick!

AIDAN WINDWAAI

Aidan's all about rugby, strong on the field,
But on the stage, his talents revealed.
With song and dance, he stole the show …
His favourite pet may be a frog, OH NO!
Smart and confident, he stands tall,
His honour is his loyalty, he'll answer any call.

"You can't use up creativity. The more you use, the more you have."

Matric celebrations

Our #matricfarewell weekend 2024 themed 'Welcome to the Jungle' saw our Grade 12 ladies and gentlemen treated to an amazing adventure getaway to Ballito, which culminated in a beautiful formal dinner and dance at the ANEW Hotel Ocean Reef Zinkwazi.

The gorgeous ladies and gentlemen of Felixton College celebrated this wonderful milestone evening with their families during a formal cocktail hour before dining and dancing the night away with their classmates.

LEADERSHIP CAMP

The Grade Eleven group visited Gwahumbe Game Lodge where they took part in a variety of team-building activities which equipped them with the important leadership skills they need for their Matric year.

They enjoyed river walks, hikes and an 'Amazing Race' challenge that saw them take on tough obstacles as a group.

BLOOD DRIVE

Each term, the pupils and staff of Felixton College HONOUR OTHERS by proudly hosting and generously supporting a SANBS Blood Donor Clinic.

#Honour Others

The service pillar is aimed at ensuring our pupils are taught to look beyond self and to create opportunities where they can #Honour Others. Our drives during the year foster a sense of community and empathy, encouraging our college to contribute positively to the lives of others.

Engaging in service cultivates essential values such as compassion, responsibility, and teamwork, which are crucial for personal growth and societal well-being. Moreover, acts of service can inspire others to get involved, creating a ripple effect that amplifies the impact on communities.

We did a number of Civvies Day drives to collect items and donations for the Queen Nandi Maternity Ward, SPCA, Ezemvelo Wildlife, Butterfly Palliative Home and Felixton College ground staff and cleaning staff.

We also embarked on service drives to raise Breast Cancer Awareness, Rhino Project and SANCA Walk Away from Drugs Awareness.

TALENT SHOWCASE

GR 10 BERG HIKE

The annual gruelling four-day Giants Cup Trail that runs along the foothills of the Drakensberg Mountains, from Sani Pass all the way to Bushman's Nek.

Accommodation consists of caves, huts and other rural (not so comfortable) abodes and the hikers have only what they can carry in their 15kg hiking bags. These are packed with all of their warmest clothing, their sleeping bags, as well as the food they cook for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

It is a difficult journey that tests their endurance as well as their mental stamina, and we are exceptionally proud of each and every hiker.

Testimonies

Thank you, Mr Picton and your incredible team, for taking our kids hiking! Definitely one of the highlights of High School, at Felixton College.
- Mel Olivier (Levi Olivier, Grade 10F)

'As a mom raising a Gen Z teenager it's safe to say my nerves were completely shot as we had no access to any form of communication for days! Also, knowing these kids had to survive (probably the first time in years) without technology was a sure struggle!

But my boy saw snow for the first time in his life after waking up from his second night's accommodation in a rock cave. I'm incredibly grateful that Felixton College organised this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for our kids, and that they all returned safe and sound!'
- Samantha Kortleve (Josh Trollip, Grade 10C)

Thank you to Felixton College for arranging this well-organised event for our children, and to our Headmaster, who met with the bus at 5h30am, to see the boys and girls off safely!

HIGH SCHOOL CULTURE

Felixton College is well on its way to shaping its cultural identity. Following the lead of our very own Head Boy, Ayrton Stewart, who delivered his Toastmasters speech in August this year, one must start at the end of the cultural activities of the year to appreciate the journey we have made.

The Zululand Eisteddfod results serve as the beacon that highlights the great strides we have made this year with our cultural programme. With 126 entries, it cannot be disputed that Felixton College has talent! It was impossible to watch any of the variety of talents on display by our college pupils and not get goosebumps and the feeling of bursting with pride. Some of the incredible performances include Lihle Ntuli's powerful public speaking, Ayrton Stewart and Ruby Bend's monologue from the series "The Crown" that could easily replace Elizabeth Debicki and Dominic West as Princess Diana and Prince Charles, and our very own celebrity ensemble who received the comment, "a professional dancing group that should be showcased nationally," from the celebrity adjudicator Ms Delia Sainsbury.

In the shadow of Ms Sainsbury's words, our Choir is well on their journey to fame. They have captured hearts this year with their locally flavoured Felixton vibe. Their new "proudly leopard" uniform surely caught the attention of the community at the St Catherine's Choir Collaboration in August, while their performance raised a standing ovation. This 50-plus-member choir undoubtedly has the makeup for a national title, and we look forward to witnessing their journey unfold.

Collaboration and community involvement are key characteristics of Felixton College, and we were pleased to have been invited by local schools to participate in their cultural events. One of the highlights this year was our Marimba Band performing at the Empangeni High School annual Marimba evening. One cannot help but leave energised and culturally inspired after a marimba collaboration. It is wonderful to have a full marimba band again. Mr Picton can confirm that their dedication to perfecting their repertoire is unwavering, as he has been privileged to witness it on Friday afternoons (from his lounge) as they prepare for performances. which brings us to where our year started.

Our musical, "Crazy Little Thing Called Love", set the tone for the year's cultural successes. It was the dream of two very eager and enthusiastic teachers to bring some light, musically-enthused entertainment for all to enjoy on our stage; however, we did not anticipate the resounding success it would become. The musical became the embodiment of the character of our High School pupils. Some talent, some humour, a big dollop of courage, and a huge scoop of willingness to contribute make for a winning recipe! It was undeniable that the musical contributed to the recognition and development of pupil talent at our school, and we were riding on the aftereffects of this succes, evident in the incredible results we bagged during the Eisteddfod.

This year's full, and at times, exhausting cultural programme would not have been such a success without our school community. These incredible successes would not have been possible without an equally incredible team. I want to thank every staff member and parent who worked tirelessly towards and supported our efforts. To our incredible pupils, who embraced the cultural programme and activities offered this year, and who challenged themselves to achieve their personal potential, I congratulate you on your achievements and encourage you to keep working towards your dreams.

I wish you all a peaceful festive season and a prosperous 2025.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUB LESSONS

Felixton College has a unique culture. Some of the words we often hear from our visitors and our parents are sense of family, friendly, and a different "vibe". It is a testament to our college culture. Through our holistic educational programme, we cultivate this culture.

Through a carefully selected cultural curriculum our pupils and staff can recognise potential, develop talents, and provide opportunities for our pupils to showcase and achieve their potential. These creative culture clubs enable our pupils to develop a sense of belonging, collaboration, support, and have fun.

Our weekly programme offers 19 clubs ranging from our traditional cultural activities like Choir, Marimba, Art, Chess and Public Speaking to Toastmasters, Contemporary and Social Dance, Vocal Coaching, Cooking, Crochet, and our very own Izingwe Post editorial.

Some highlights from our cultural programme this year includes the Valentine's "sokkie" dance, the fun-filled ensemble practices, the crochet competition, the photography field trip, the electric choir performances, and the numerous Eisteddfod entries for which we bagged awards.

Wednesdays and Thursdays' culture periods are a highlight of our week at the College and form an essential part of cultivating the unique culture that is Felixton College.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL

"This thing called love, I just can't handle it..." Practising and performing this and many other songs, as many times as we did during rehearsals, engraves the lyrics into your memory, and you get a sudden buzz in the veins when you hear the song!

Through Felixton College's Crazy Little Thing Called Love musical, the audience was transported back to the hip-swinging 1950s and told the timeless story of "every pot has a lid" and love will find its way.

From the beginning of rehearsals, Mrs Jacobs' warm-ups ensured that humour and fun sowed the seeds for camaraderie and a comfortable space for cast members to explore their talents and build their characters. From Jurgens Pretorius's legendary stage jump, Aidan Windwaai dropping Daniella Burgess during the infamous "sokkie" dance practice, Siphesihle Manyoni's enthusiasm for all things dance, and the tongue-tied lines that the stage crew reminded the cast of behind the curtains, fun became the theme of the late-night and weekend rehearsals.

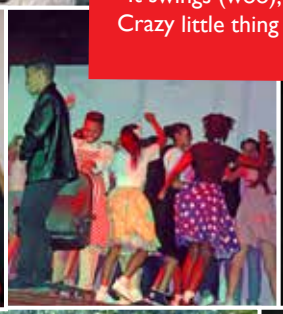

Camaraderie sums up the recipe for this success story as every member of the cast contributed 100% to ensure the success of each performance night. If you were a fly on the wall, you would have witnessed ensemble members assisting each other with lines, moves, costumes, make-up, and hair. You would have had goosebumps when you witnessed them all go down on their knees to pray before each performance. If you were there on the last, sold-out Barnyard evening, you would have gotten goosebumps with the final outstanding performance...

"It swings (woo), it jives (woo), it shakes all over like a jellyfish, I kinda like it, Crazy little thing called love..."

DRAMATIC ARTS on tour!

Valentine's Dance

The Felixton College Dramatic Arts and Visual Arts pupils from Grade 10 - 12 attended the long-anticipated Hilton Arts Festival.

They were treated to three brilliant performances: "King of Broken Things" by Michael Taylor-Broderick and Cara Roberts, "Spellbound" by magicians Brendon Peel and Li Lau, and finally, the favourite of our students, "Worlds Away" by the Cirk/Urban Circus.

Our Visual Arts students also attended a ceramic painting workshop with artist Lara Mellon, and three of our students who can sing attended a vocal recording session at the Hilton College Recording Studio.

Overall, a very fun-filled, entertaining and educational weekend!

Roné Jacobs

Choir and Marimba

The cultural ambassadors of our College remain our choir and Marimba band. Their outstanding performances this year were a testament to the talent that our school has to offer, and they certainly did not stand back from the intimidating performances of some of our regional schools. Outfitted with their new black leopard print-rimmed shirts and enthusiastic smiles, the audiences could gauge from the start that this local choir has a uniquely Felixton "vibe" and promises to bring that Zululand flair to their performances. Included in their repertoire this year were Thula Mama, Sevela Kwa-Zulu, Say Something, Mbombela, Rainmaker, and Great is Thy Faithfulness. They got the approval of the community from the get-go, and the standing ovations have ignited a fire that leaves them hungry for a National title.

Following in the footsteps of the unique Marimba band members before them, our 2024 Marimba band showed our community that the marimba is an instrument that makes up part of the Felixton DNA. As they played the melody of "Osama" (which means Lion), they proved that they (Felixton College) are still the King of the Jungle when it comes to this instrument. Facing numerous challenges this year, this band prevailed, inspired each other, and continued to practise. Their determination laid the foundations for the next generation of Marimba band members. We are looking forward to welcoming our new Marimba members joining us next year.

The Grade 8 camp to The Farm was an exciting experience filled with fun activities and bonding moments. Pupils participated in various exercises, such as, building of rafts at the lagoon, obstacle courses, paintball, target shooting and archery. They also shared stories around a bonfire each evening, reflecting on the day's events. The camp was a wonderful opportunity for students to make new friends, strengthen teamwork skills, and create lasting memories.

BELL RINGING CEREMONY

FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL SPORT DESK

Do wins and losses define Felixton College sport's reputation?

Way back in 1731 the young men of All Saint's parish clashed with the St. Peter's parish lads in a town called Derby in the UK. All the men over the age of 18 took part in the 'sport' of trying to force the ball from one parish to the other. Although this sport has changed remarkably from that time, one aspect of that match still remains.

From then on the name 'local Derby' was coined for any heated football match between neighbouring clubs. And in school sport we have a plethora of 'Derbies'.

Yet how crucial are those victories against local rivals in school sports? Well, they've been ingrained in the very essence of school competitions since the early 19th century and therefore take on huge importance in the school calendar. Winning has always been a badge of honour, a sort of unofficial stamp of superiority, albeit a somewhat illogical one. But boy, winning feels so much better than the alternative!

In today's competitive landscape of schools, sports results still carry significant weight. Schools are well aware that to remain appealing to future parents and their offspring, they must be viewed as superior to the neighbouring schools. There's a widespread recognition of the importance of "marketing," these results which sometimes tempts us to think that winning a match implies one school is outshining another and clearly a better institution. But is that really the case?

Reputation matters for any organisation, including schools. A thriving sports programme is a key component of this reputation. However, measuring success solely by goals, tries and runs scored and conceded, is like judging a car by the sound of its hooter- a bit shallow.

Sure, in the heat of the moment, those numbers seem like the Holy Grail and we are always eternally grateful we never went to the losing school. But as a yardstick for quality, they fall short and are as reliable as a chocolate tea-pot. Results are easily swayed by a myriad of temporary factors including luck – which way the ball bounces, who is fit or injured that day, even the weather and the home referee. Shouldn't a school's reputation be based on something more substantial and enduring than a few uncontrollable factors?

Upon deeper reflection, most schools would realise that reputation outweighs results. How many players get to participate in the fixture? How is the game played? Factors like behaviour, skill, creativity, and sportsmanship, along with how staff and parents conduct themselves, are equally if not more important than the final tally. After all, it's the methods used to pursue victory that truly define a school's quality.

A top-notch sports programme instils in its players a drive to excel, a willingness to put in the effort to achieve their best. It fosters commitment, adaptability, and respect for the game, the officials, and the opponents. It encourages a desire to win, tempered with the understanding that victory isn't always guaranteed, and that a late-game goal doesn't diminish the efforts of the losing team or make them inferior.

Coaches and parents play a pivotal role here too, shaping the attitudes and behaviours of the children, for better or for worse. Pressure from adults to win can stifle creativity and enjoyment among players, significantly impacting how outsiders perceive a school. It only takes one out of control parent, coach or player to take the gloss off the finest victory.

Skills, strategies, and effort matter on the field. The absence of these qualities hints at an inadequate sports programme within a school. If teams are well-prepared, enthusiastic, and competitive, it speaks volumes about the school's culture of participation. And if players show up eager to play, demonstrate reliability, put in the work to improve, and maintain good conduct during matches, then an extra goal from the opposing team doesn't make that school a loser.

When assessing the importance of sports results, schools should first consider the impression they want to leave on others. What's the initial reaction they aim to evoke when others see their name on the fixture card or in the press? On every competitive circuit, there are schools everyone loves to play against, and those dreaded ones where match days are endured rather than enjoyed.

And often, it's not the result of the game that sticks in the memory, but rather the tone of the occasion – the fairness, the fun, and the atmosphere. These are the things remembered long after the final score fades away.

Sure, winning matters, but reputation matters more. Every time.

At Felixton College, we strive to help our young sportsmen and sportswomen have fun playing their sports, be it at practices or fixtures. Evidently it is more fun to win but that cannot be our ultimate goal. In 2023, we won or drew 55% of our matches. In 2024, we won or drew 50% of our matches. However, these stats don't portray what our kids have achieved….

We had more of our hockey teams playing their fixtures on astro-turf this year, this despite us not currently having our own full size astro-turf. The reason for scheduling these fixtures is that we see the value for our sportsmen and sportswomen of playing hockey on astro-turf despite knowing that we will be challenged to come away with wins against these bigger schools whose players practise and play on their astro-turfs week in and week out.

Excluding our Term 4 cricket fixtures, which as I write this, we have not started, we scheduled 13 cricket fixtures in Term 1, of which we only lost one. In all formats of rugby, we won 56% of our fixtures in 2024, not bad when the majority of our opposition schools regularly field more teams and have many more players to choose from. A huge positive for us this year was that we fielded a 2nd XV for the first time since age-banding was introduced 13 years ago. Despite them not managing to pull off a win, these players had the opportunity to develop their skills, to get game time and to have some fun.

Gauging our success by the number of wins and losses contradicts what we strive for….enjoyment, sportsmanship, camaraderie and player development, but just remember... in all sport codes played in 2024, we played our 'derby' rivals on 28 occasions, winning 14 and drawing one, so not only are we getting it right with improving our "reputation", we won more than them in 2024.

Our sports programme at Felixton College needs to remain focused on the 'reputation' and not the wins. Well done to all players, coaches, parents and other supporters for ensuring that we did just that in 2024.

FEELING SPORTY!

NETBALL

Netball was filled with ups and downs throughout the entire season. I am so proud to say that our girls left their hearts on the court after every game. Whether it was a win, a draw, or a loss the team held their heads high and kept smiling.

The highlight this term was undoubtedly the derby against Grantleigh.
Our U16 team reigned supreme, our U14 and 2nd team girls had also played like superstars, and although our first team didn't win, they had played a splendid game, with honour.

We are very proud of all of our netball players and are proud to call them a part of Felixton College's elite sports teams.

BASKETBALL

Our teams have shown unwavering dedication and passion on the court, leaving nothing behind after every match, whether it ended in victory or defeat. We maintained a positive attitude throughout.

We took immense pride in all our basketball teams at Felixton College.

Mr. Haydam being our coach has helped all age groups improve in both gameplay and coordination, demonstrating resilience and growth. His hard work and guidance have played an important role in shaping a disciplined, motivated, and competitive team. We would like to thank Mr. Haydam, who managed to pull a rabbit out of a hat, his ways of teaching and playing basketball will always be a magical and huge highlight for me.

SOCCER

As the curtain closes on an unforgettable soccer season, our teams have left an indelible mark on the pitch. The rollercoaster ride of highs and lows has showcased the unwavering desire and resilience of every team.

THRILLING FIXTURES: Memorable Moments

Against Reddam House Umhlanga away, our U15 boys and girls dominated with staggering 13-0 and 3-0 victories, respectively. The 1st team boys crushed their opponents 6-0, while the 1st team girls faced a tough 3-0 loss.

On Izingwe Field, our U15 girls triumphed 3-1 against Grantleigh, while the U15 boys suffered a heartbreaking 1-0 defeat. The 1st team girls secured a nail-biting 1-0 win and the 1st team boys delivered a resounding 5-1 thrashing on their opponents Grantleigh.

TOURNAMENT GLORY: Saints 2024 Soccer Challenge

Our 1st team girls proudly claimed third place, capping off an impressive season!

What made this season truly unforgettable was the ability players demonstrated showing remarkable resilience during tough times, excellent teamwork and communication every game but most importantly unwavering encouragement parents showed in order to empower our learners to shine on the pitch.

As we bid farewell to this spectacular season, we celebrate the victories, learn from setbacks and eagerly await the next chapter in our soccer journey.

INTER-HOUSE GALA

Drums pounding, voices singing in harmony, and the air alive with anticipation.

The High School Inter-house Gala was an absolute blast, buzzing with excitement and energy!

Throughout the event, students from every house cheered on their peers with unwavering support.

Tristan Byleveld and Kathryn Johnston stole the show, clinching two Senior trophies for team Vulcan, while Sola Rielly's victory added to Vulcan's shining glory.

Let's not forget Jesse Livanos, who's stellar performance earned him the prestigious Junior Victor Ludorum reward.

As the day came to a close, team Vulcan celebrated their well-deserved victory, with Apollo and Neptune following close behind.

But more than the competition, the gala was a celebration of fellowship and teamwork!

Hats off to everyone who made the event such a success, and here's to many more spirited events that bring out the best of our school!

MRS DUMI MOORE

(1968 – 2024)

Mrs Nondumiso (Dumi) Moore began her tenure at Felixton College in September 2006, teaching IsiZulu First Additional Language. She was the proud mother of two sons, Sheldon (Class of 2014) and Zane (Class of 2018) who both attended the College. She also leaves behind, her husband, Ashton.

She will be fondly remembered for her unwavering dedication to her pupils in the classroom, her loyalty to the school, immaculate sense of presentation (in both appearance and work), and poise.

Dumi was a highly respected educator in her isiZulu FAL cluster group comprising the Zululand Independent schools, as well as in the greater IEB community, where she marked the Grade 12 Independent Examinations Board (IEB) National Senior Certificate (NSC) examinations for many years.

The sublime marks achieved by her Grade 12 classes in the IEB NSC examinations at the end of each year, consistently well above the IEB national average, are testament to her exceptional teaching prowess.

The pupils in all of her isiZulu classes (Grades 8 – 12), and those who enjoyed her guidance and mentorship in the Tutor lessons, were very fond of her and count themselves privileged to have been under her care.

Our quiet, elegant, highly-respected Dumi, will be sorely missed.

FROM THE JUNIOR SCHOOL DESK

As we approach the end of another remarkable school year, I find myself reflecting on the incredible experiences and achievements that have shaped our Junior School over the past months. It's hard to believe how quickly time has flown!

This year has been filled with memorable moments. From our vibrant Eisteddfod items to the competitive sport fixtures, I've watched our pupils showcase their talents, creativity, and hard work. Each event reminded me of the resilience and enthusiasm that our pupils bring to everything they do. I am particularly proud of how our school community came together to support one another, fostering friendships and creating lasting memories.

Our commitment to nurturing a love of learning has been at the heart of everything we do. It has been heartwarming to see our pupils take on challenges, develop new skills, and grow in confidence. Some highlights of our year are STEM family nights, Eisteddfod performances, class tours, shows, Pause to Create cultural week, numerous community service drives and all this in amongst a host of sports fixtures across many, many different codes.

I want to extend my gratitude to everyone who contributed to this successful academic year. We are blessed with an incredible parent body who along with the dedicated staff have helped us achieve greatness in so many different spheres. A special word of thanks to Mr Rademan who has guided and supported us throughout the year, we are truly grateful for your sincere leadership skills and for encouraging us each and every day to be the best that we can be. Thanks to the support staff who have maintained our buildings and grounds, safely transported our children, cleaned our classrooms and handled all the administrative tasks that are critical to the smooth functioning of any institution - you are all greatly appreciated. A heartfelt thank you to our dedicated staff, and, most importantly, our wonderful pupils. Your hard work, commitment and enthusiasm make our school a special place. I am excited about what the next year holds and can't wait to see everyone back, ready for new adventures.

Last, but certainly not least, a special word of thanks to the Junior School Management Team who have taken on additional responsibilities and have walked this journey through 2024 by my side. Mrs Schnell, Mrs Rademan, Mr Beukes and Mrs Picton you are examples of how to "go the extra mile". Thank you for your support and for taking initiative throughout the year. You play a major role in the success of the Junior School and we are grateful for the responsibilities you all so capably fulfil.

As we prepare for the summer holiday, I encourage everyone to take time to relax, recharge, and explore new interests. For our departing Grade Seven pupils, I wish you all the best as you move on to new adventures in High School. Remember, you carry the spirit of our junior school with you, and we are proud of all that you have achieved.

Remember, every step you take is a step toward becoming the best version of yourself!

Imagine... Believe... Achieve!

Yours in education,

Teresa Wickham

Laughter echoed through the air as the Junior swimmers from a host of visiting schools took to the pool, showcasing their talent and their team spirit. The glow of pool lights illuminated determined faces, and camaraderie blossomed as friends shared hot chocolate to keep warm, while encouraging one another through the night.

BUNNIES TENNIS

Bunnies Tennis is a mini-tennis tournament for Grade 1, 2 and 3 children.

In a round-robin format, each player is afforded the opportunity to play four matches against opponents of equal strength.

The first player to win 10 points wins their match.

It is a fun way to introduce our new and upcoming tennis players to the game of tennis, and it allows them to grow their love and interest for the game.

Why do we eat pancakes on Shrove Tuesday?

Historically Shrove Tuesday was the last chance for a spot of indulgence before 40 days of fasting, and also an opportunity to use up food that couldn't be eaten during Lent.

Items such as eggs, butter and milk were made into pancakes and eaten on that day.

GRADE 7 MARKET DAY

GRADE 7 STEM EVENING

In Term 2, our Grade 7 pupils and their families gathered for an exciting STEM evening, filled with hands-on activities and interactive demonstrations that showcased the wonders of Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM).

One of the highlights of the evening was the drone demonstration. The boys and girls and their families had the opportunity to learn about the mechanics and physics behind drone flight and were able to test their piloting skills, navigating the drones. The excitement was palpable as they marvelled at the technology and precision required to operate these flying machines.

In another station, families immersed themselves in the world of simulator games which offered realistic scenarios that required strategic thinking and problem-solving. The flying drone simulator game provided a fun and educational experience, highlighting the importance of STEM skills in various real-world applications.

The evening also featured a hands-on engineering project of building and testing craft launchers. Using everyday materials, the Grade 7s and their families collaborated to design and construct launchers capable of sending small objects through the air. This activity not only sparked creativity but also taught essential engineering principles such as force, trajectory and aerodynamics. Cheers and laughter filled the room as families tested their launchers, making adjustments and celebrating successful flights.

The Grade 7 STEM evening was more than just a series of activities, it was an opportunity for families to bond over shared learning experiences.

Parents participated enthusiastically, discovering new interests and skills alongside their children.

MOVING UP!

This day sees the Grade 7 boys and girls enjoying a High School classroom experience during the day that culminates in a wonderful lunch hosted by the academic staff. In the evening, their parents are welcomed to a High School discussion and meeting with the Headmaster.

GRADE 7 CAMP

For the second year running the Grade 7s travelled by bus to Infinite Adventures for their annual grade camp, near the Valley of 1000 Hills. The children were kept busy with various team-building activities, as well as ones which required courage. They enjoyed: zip-lining, wall climbing, the Ultimate Survival Challenge, as well as archery and a game of paintball on the final morning, before returning home to their parents, absolutely exhausted. Which is the way it should be!

GRADE 6 CAMP

Grade 6 pupils had a remarkable adventure at the Babanango Matatane campsite, which offered a cosy touch of glamping with its spacious tents and scrumptious meals. Each day was packed with challenging activities both, mentally and physically, that tested endurance and teamwork. At night, after a yummy dessert, we ventured into the still of the night to play "Stalk the Lantern". We would listen carefully to every sound under the starless sky, becoming one with nature, stalking the lantern as if it was prey. When it was time for "lights out", we would be quiet only for a moment before the first giggles sparked fun conversations and laughter with friends. Without a thought for our phones or games, this experience truly brought our class closer, teaching us the values of friendship, consideration, and tolerance.

RHINO DAY

The entire College - from Grade RRRR to Grade 12 - stood together to support Project Rhino's fundraising drive by donating their pocket money, wearing civvies, and talking about the importance of rhino conservation.

The highlight of the day was the 'naming' of the wire rhino on campus: Pip Nahla Felixton

World BEE Day

World Bee Day is celebrated on the 20th of May each year. This year's theme was "Bee engaged with Youth". The Junior School celebrated this day, as we have done for the past two years, by holding an annual Inter-house Spelling Bee competition. The Grade 3-7 children all wrote spelling tests and the top 3 spellers from each grade were awarded certificates. All the spelling test scores were combined and went towards house points. The top two Grade 6 or 7 children from each house then participated in the Inter-house Spelling Bee held in the school hall. The children from Grade 1-7 sat in their respective houses, dressed in their Apollo, Neptune or Vulcan t-shirts to show their support for the spellers. You could hear a pin drop in the hall as the children were asked to spell words out loud. Words were spelled in rounds until we had an overall spelling champion. This year Vulcan were the overall winners and Lwazi Zungu, from Apollo, was our overall Spelling Bee Champion.

MY VICTORY AT THE JUNIOR SCHOOL LAPATHON

Hi, everyone! I'm Sihe Mazibuko, and I'm excited to share my experience at our school's annual Lapathon that took place on 10 May this year. It was an amazing event, and I'm thrilled to tell you all about my journey to victory, clocking the most laps overall during the event.

In the weeks before, I was super enthusiastic and spent a lot of time gathering sponsorships. My family supported me, but I don't think they expected me to perform as well as I did!

On the day of the Lapathon the atmosphere was electric, and the air was filled with awesome music and loud cheering. Some boys and girls took it easy, running and walking with their friend groups - but I was determined to give it my all and aim for the win.

As I started, I soaked in the excitement of the event and paced myself. About half an hour into the race, my legs started to feel tired, but I kept repeating to myself, "Never back down. Never give up!" That kept me going, and I pushed myself to the limit.

A special shout-out to Samuel Wessels from Grade 5, who was a tough competitor and really gave me a run for my money. He definitely helped push me to win.

Even though my class didn't collect the most money for the Lapathon - that honour went to the Grade 7 class - we all had a fantastic time.

I also want to give a big shout-out to the younger grades, who ran like stars. Thanks to our amazing teachers for organising the event so well and making it a memorable day for all of us.

I'm already looking forward to my final Lapathon next year and hoping to win again.

Cheers,

Sihe Mazibuko

GRADE 5's
VISIT TO KHULISA ADVENTURES

The Grade 5s went to Khulisa Adventures (St. Lucia) this year for their annual camp, where they engaged in many team-building activities and exciting challenges. They embarked on a long walk through sand dunes to eventually reach one of St. Lucia's heritage sites, where they learnt about the sea life in the area and enjoyed the view of the untapped natural landscape. They thoroughly enjoyed the boat ride along the river, where they saw over 30 hippos and various other animals.

GRADE 4's
TRIP TO SEULA

There was much excitement in the air as the Grade 4s started their last term with a two night stay at Seula. We couldn't wait to get there and start the fun! After meeting our instructors we broke up into 2 groups and we were kept very busy every day with loads of activities including: ziplining, wall climbing, hiking, swimming, crawling through mud and team-building activities.

We enjoyed our delicious meals and even had time to buy sour tongues and ice cream from the tuck shop. The evenings were spent going on night walks and singing war cries around the bonfire and the Grade 4s had a wonderful time making many memories.

STEM NIGHT

The opening of the Olympic Games in Paris was the perfect opportunity for an Olympic Games STEM night. The children and their parents enjoyed an interactive evening of Olympic fun. From designing archery equipment to experimenting with food colouring as well as competitive computer-based activities challenges there was something for everyone. There was much laughter, healthy competition and lots of learning.

FLIP FLOP DAY

CELEBRATING OUR MOMS

The Junior Primary moms were showered with love at their Mother's Day evening. It kicked off with a pilates session led by a Elinor Kgati, before the children transformed into little masseuses, offering gentle massages to their mothers' shoulders, heads, hands and feet. The boys and girls then sang their moms a lovely Mother's Day song before they all enjoyed a picnic supper around the jungle gym. To end off the evening the moms were given beautiful Mother's Day biscuits and the children enjoyed ice creams. It was wonderful to be able to honour our amazing moms and let them know how truly special they are to us.

A Virtual Experience

In an exciting and innovative educational initiative, students from Grades 1 to 7, participated in a virtual reality (VR) adventure.

Little explorers embarked on a thrilling journey back in time to the Mesozoic era where they encountered life-like dinosaurs. From the towering Tyrannosaurus rex to the gentle Triceratops, the students were wide-eyed with wonder.

The Grade 4 and 5 students ventured into the heart of the African savannah where they explored the vast wilderness, encountering majestic elephants, graceful giraffes, and elusive lions. The realistic sights and sounds left a lasting impression.

Through specialized software, the Grade 6 and 7 boys and girls explored different sections of the human body, identifying organs and gaining an in-depth view of how our intricate systems function.

Laughter, gasps, and exclamations filled the VR lab as students interacted with their virtual surroundings!

PANDA PAINTS COMPETITION

The Junior School Arts and Culture Department is thrilled to announce that twenty of our talented students participated in the "Inspired by Nature" art competition organised by Panda Paints. The competition was open to schools across KZN, and our students were tasked with creating an original design on a shopper bag inspired by nature.

Retired Art educator, Sarah O'Reilly, spent many hours reviewing the entries and selecting the top twenty. We are proud to say that four of our students were selected as highly commended, receiving a 12-piece pencil drawing set as a prize. Their artwork will be showcased at Sarah's gallery in Ballito.

Special mentions go to Illavie Visagie (Grade 2), Lisa Mkhize (Grade 4), Jared Aiston (Grade 5), and Sihle Dlamini (Grade 5) for their outstanding and imaginative designs.

We would like to extend our congratulations to all the students who took part in this competition. We are incredibly proud of their creativity, initiative, and hard work. This achievement is testament to their artistic talents and dedication to their craft.

DAD, YOU'RE MY HERO!

The Junior Primary Father's Day braai began with the dads and children being split into groups and then going from station to station where they had different exercises to do.

There was lots of laughter and friendly competition as some found the exercises more challenging than others!

They were then rewarded for their efforts with delicious boerewors rolls. The children still had lots of energy and played soccer and other games on the field while their dads socialised. Throughout the evening the wonderful bond between the fathers and their children was evident. Each moment was a reminder of the importance of family and the joy found in spending quality time together!

FROM THE JUNIOR PRIMARY HOD

As we come to the close of another fantastic year in the Junior Primary, I would like to take a moment to reflect on the memorable events and experiences that have defined our year. In 2024, the children have made remarkable academic progress and shown increased confidence in their abilities.

They can be proud of their achievements and are certainly deserving of the upcoming holiday. Our Mother's Day evening was a heartfelt tribute to the wonderful mothers who support and inspire our children every day. Similarly, at our Father's Day function we celebrated the dedicated fathers and father figures in our community. This year's Grandparents' Day was a touching occasion, where our children got to share special moments with their grandparents and showcase their talents in and out of the classroom. The event was a beautiful reminder of the strong family bonds that enrich our school community. Our Spring Olympics is always a highlight of the year and it was filled with energetic activities and friendly competition. Our overnight trip to The Farm was an exciting adventure where our children got to experience new challenges. It was a fantastic opportunity for personal growth and team building. The Junior Primary gala was filled with enthusiasm and camaraderie making it a fun-filled morning.

Our annual Nativity Play was the festive highlight of the year. The children brought the Christmas spirit to life with their imaginative performances, delighting audiences and adding a special touch to the end of the year.

I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to my Junior Primary staff for their exceptional dedication and hard work throughout 2024. Your unwavering commitment, creativity, and enthusiasm have been instrumental in making this year a resounding success. Thank you too to Mr Rademan, Mrs Wickham and the Senior Primary staff for all your support and guidance throughout the year.

As our Grade 3 children prepare to transition to the Senior Primary, we wish them the very best of luck. Your hard work, growth and enthusiasm have set a strong foundation for the next chapter of your academic journey. We are confident that you will continue to shine and excel. I look forward to welcoming the Grade 1s, 2s and 3s of 2025 back to school for another wonderful year.

Lastly, a heartfelt thank you to all the parents for your unwavering love, support, and involvement throughout the year. Your commitment and encouragement have been invaluable in making this year a success.

I wish you all a blessed Christmas and restful holiday season.

We look forward to welcoming you back for another exciting year ahead!

I would have spent my days helping people around the city and I would have lived in a pretty castle - with flowers!

Simi Moyana

I would have been a brave knight who was remembered for being brave and handsome - and always going to war!

Lubanzi Mtetwa

I would have lived in a peaceful mansion with three floors, four dogs, six rooms, and a chef.

Balela Nyawo

I would have been a knight known as Gabriel the Great and I would have spent my days protecting the king.

Gabriel Pereira

THE MIDDLE AGES...

I would have lived in the king's castle. I would have had a black horse and a good bed.

Mckayla du Plessis

I would have been known as Sir Bravery, and I would have spent my days fighting off dragons.

Keagan Ellens

I would have been known as Jester Ihlu, and I would have spent my days making the people and the king and queen laugh.

Ihlu Fakude

My castle would have beautiful wall tiles with lots of gold and I would want to be remembered for being a kind King.

Ismaeel Joosub

I would have lived in a cosy cottage with strong wooden walls and a very warm fire inside.

Jesse Kgati

I would have been a kind and helpful King who spent my days helping the sick and poor.

Siyanda Mthembu

My castle would have had a draw-bridge, a spiral staircase, parapets, battlements, and a tower!

Muhammad Muller

I would have spent my days riding my brown horse and spreading joy to all the people of the land.

Neha Naidoo

I would have been a beautiful queen and my castle would have pink rooms, blue tiles and seven pictures!

Kuhle Ndlovu

I would have spent my days being brave and protecting the King and Queen

Isa Ngcobo

I would have been known as James the Fiddler, and I would have spent my days fiddling in the towns and making people laugh.

Elijah Ramsamy

I would have lived in a big castle with five cooks, four serfs and two toilets!

Luka Reddy-Jordaan

I would have spent my days dancing, writing, and picking flowers.

Skyler Steward

I would have lived in a beautiful castle with a big garden for my plants and space for me to train my horse.

Leeto Tau

I would have been a Lady's Maid and would have spent my days helping the princess put on her dresses.

2024 VOTING!

What FUN the Junior Primary boys and girls had, as they learned about democracy during a mock election.

Each child was afforded the opportunity to 'vote' for their favorite activity, and the winning 'party' saw the children enjoying a fun morning socializing with the 1st Rugby boys – and even having autographs!

Die Graad 3s het 'n Kleurvolle Reënboog-piekniek geniet aan die afsluiting van hul Afrikaanse Kleur-tema. Die kinders is in groepe verdeel en moes in daardie kleur aantrek asook 'n piekniek-item saambring om met hul groep te deel. Daar was groot opgewondenheid toe hulle in hul genomineerde kleur by die skool aankom. Hulle het almal kleurvolle sjerpe op hul polse gekry en hul kleurliedjie met trots aan die Graad 1s en 2s aangebied. Hulle het toe 'n groot plakkaat met kleurvolle handafdrukke versier en kon reënboogbingo speel, asook aan 'n Raai die reënboog M&M-speletjie deelgeneem en 'n kolwyntjie met kleurvolle sprinkels versier. Baie pret was deur almal gehad.

OUTING TO DAYSPRING FARM

Junior Primary Overnight Tour

Grade 1, 2 and 3 children had an unforgettable adventure during their one-night trip to The Farm. Excitement filled the air as the children were directed to their tents and tepees. The children were organised into groups for their activities. They rotated between a tractor ride, which allowed them to connect with the farm's vibrant landscape, and a horse ride. In their groups, they fed the farm animals and enjoyed a refreshing dip in the pool. In the evening, the learners gathered around the campfire, sang songs, and shared stories. They ended the night with a walk to discover the wonders of nature under the full moon.

The trip was a wonderful blend of learning, laughter and friendship.

FROM THE ROOTS DESK

Encouraging Independence and Responsibility in Our Little Learners

At Roots, we believe that independence is one of the greatest gifts we can give our children. From the moment they walk through our doors, we encourage them to take charge of their own day - whether it's mastering the art of putting on shoes or organising their belongings after a busy day in the playground. You may even catch us reminding them with our favourite chant: "Who's in charge of you?" to which they proudly shout back, "Yourself!"

Independence at Roots begins with the basics. Our little ones learn to dress themselves and navigate the tricky business of taking their lunch to the snack table. They open containers, feed themselves, and, just as importantly, pack everything neatly back into their cooler boxes. We even get them involved in cleaning up around them - responsibility starts with the small stuff!

Swimming season is when the real magic happens. Not only do the children learn to swim, but they also become mini organizers, laying out their clothes in a way that would impress even the most seasoned travellers. They roll their wet costumes, goggles, and caps into their towels, making what we like to call "the sausage." It's a proud moment for them as they hang their bags on their hooks and confidently hand in their notebooks.

At the end of each day, they even learn to "fit" their notebooks back into their bags - a small task, but one that builds confidence, problem-solving skills, and a sense of accomplishment. These little moments of responsibility are more than just routine - they're laying the foundation for life-long skills.

Our goal at Roots is simple: to raise children who are not only independent but accountable for their choices and actions. We want them to know they have the power to choose how they feel and how they respond to challenges. With every "yourself" they shout, they're embracing the idea that they are in control of their happiness and their day.

So, the next time your little one tells you they cleaned up their snack or rolled up their swimming gear into a neat bundle, know that they are on their way to becoming confident, self-reliant individuals. After all, it's these small victories that lead to big leaps in growth.

WORLD BOOK DAY

ROOTS GOLF DAY

The annual Felixton College Roots Pre-Primary School Golf Day took place at the Felixton Country Club during Term 3 - and what a day it was!

The Club - always beautiful - was showing off for the golfers, who were spoiled by an array of generous sponsors. Stunning blue skies, green #fairways, children laughing, great food, and tons of prizes for those who took part - what a wonderful way to spend a Saturday!

Thank you to our wonderful sponsors for their continued support, and to the golfers who took part!

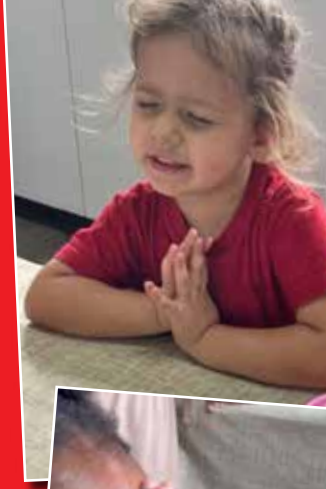

COLLEGE PRAYER

Eternal God,
the source of all truth
bless our College
and all its members
past and present.
Be with us in
our worship, in our work,
and in our play.
Inspire the hearts
of those who teach,
and those who learn.
Guide those who lead,
and those who follow.
That all may offer You
the perfect service which is worthy of your love.

For Jesus Christ's sake,
Amen
